

You're Invited to a Healthcare Professional CE Group Viewing Event

Trends in the Clinical Management of Food Allergy

Raquel Durban, MS, RD, LDN, reviews the current epidemiology of food allergies and the relationship between timing of allergenic food introduction and development of food allergies and related disorders. Updated clinical guidelines are described. Clinical tools and techniques clinicians can use in practice to manage patients who have or are at risk for food allergies are reviewed. The current role of immunotherapy is discussed, as well as new and emerging food allergy research.
